OUR STORY

For Chef Meet Savaliya, cooking was never just about food, it was always about bringing people together. His journey started at home, cooking Surti style egg dishes for friends and family using the flavors he grew up with in Surat, Gujarat, India. Seeing people enjoy his food, smile, and come back for more inspired him to turn his passion into something bigger.

That passion became The Eggwala, a place built on authentic flavors, creativity, and genuine hospitality. Even today, Chef Meet personally connects with guests, checks on tables, and makes sure everyone who walks in feels welcomed, cared for, and leaves with a memorable experience.
